

PACIFIC COAST SHELLFISH GROWERS ASSOCIATION
ANNOUNCES

STUDENT SCHOLARSHIP AWARD FOR APPLIED SCIENCE

Invitation to Apply

Deadline: June 15, 2008

The Pacific Coast Shellfish Growers Association (PCSGA) invites students to apply for the Applied Research Student Scholarship Award. Students involved in shellfish biology, aquaculture, marine sciences, marketing or related fields are invited to submit applications for scholarships that award research projects that meet one of the needs for research identified in the Goals 2015 document. This document, produced by the Pacific Shellfish Institute (PSI) and PCSGA, identifies and prioritizes areas of research needed by West Coast shellfish growers. The proposed research should apply directly to one of the priorities for research listed in Goals 2015.

Scholarship awards will vary, according to the applicability of the research, available funds, and number of proposals selected for funding, however, awards are expected to be in the $500 - $1,000 range. Students selected for awards will be expected to present their findings (for completed research) or a description of current or pending research projects at the joint annual conference of the PCSGA and the National Shellfisheries Association-Pacific Coast Section Oct 1 – 3, 2008 in Chelan, Washington.

The award(s) will be presented to the student(s) at the annual Awards Banquet after a presentation of their research at the PCSGA/NSA annual conference. As part of the award, the students' registration to attend the conference and the Awards Banquet will be covered. Financial assistance to cover lodging costs at the conference site can also be made available.

Any student enrolled in a college or university, including both undergraduate and graduate students, are eligible to apply.

The Goals 2015 document can be found on the PSI website at www.pacshell.org. For further information, contact Robin Downey at PCSGA at 360-754-2744.
